A VOCABULARY
English and Latin,

CONTAINING

The most usual Words of the Latin Tongue, digested into such a natural Order, as will at once help the Memory, and inform the Judgment.

Together with the LANGUAGE
Of the SCHOOL
Translated into LATIN.

Collected (for the most Part) from the Classic Authors, and proposed as the best Method, to prevent Boys speaking bad Latin, and the easiest Way to teach them (in a few Months) to converse in true Roman Latin.

P R E F A C E.

I Am very sensible, the World may, at the first Appearance of this Book, object against its Usefulness, by reason of the many Works of this Kind already extant. There are (I confess) a great many, and some few good Ones amongst them, but that's no solid Objection against me; for as they took Liberty to improve upon the Antients, so others, by fresh Observations and Experience, may find Occasion to supply their Defects, and render their Works more correct and useful. How much I have contributed to that Purpose, may appear in the using of the Book; but take this brief Account of the Method and Design of it.

The first Part of this Vocabulary contains the most usual Nouns, Adnouns, Verbs, and Particles of the Latin Tongue, especially those that are Primitive, and do commonly occur in the Classic Authors. In compiling of which, I have endeavour'd first to make a right Collection of Words, and then to place every Word in its natural Order; for I cannot be of their Opinion who think, that a Parcel of loose Words, having no Connection, are a sufficient Vocabulary; therefore fore I desire the Reader to stop here, and to look over to the Beginning of the Vocabulary, where (having read a Page or two of the English, without taking Notice of the Latin) he will find the Words so connected and reduced to such a natural Order, as will, at once, help the Memory and inform the Judgment. By this Method a Boy of the meanest Capacity may easily discover the Gender, Declension, or Conjugation of a Noun or Verb, without the Help of the Master, or being obliged to have Recourse to Rules that he cannot make Use of.

The second Part directs the Scholar how to express his Thoughts in true Roman Latin, either when he is plying his Lesson, or diverting himself with his Games. The English Sentence is expressed in the plainest Terms imaginable, and the Latin collected from the true Classic Authors, and when it could not be found there, Recourse has been had to the learned Erasmus and Vives. This is proposed as the best Method to prevent Boys speaking bad Latin, and the easiest Way to teach them to converse in true Roman Latin; but, whether the Performance will answer the Design, I leave it to the impartial Reader to determine.

At Edinburgh, the Nineteenth Day of April, 1708.

A Nent the Petition given in and presented to the Lords of Her Majesty's Privy Council, by Thomas Watt Master of Arts: shewing, That where the Petitioner, after a great deal of Study, for the Improvement of Learning, has compiled a Book, entituled, A Vocabulary English and Latin, &c. But the Petitioner may in a great Measure lose the due Encouragement he expects by the said Undertaking, if other Persons be allowed to Re-print and Sell the foresaid Book composed by him as said is: And seeing their Lordships are always in use to encourage Undertakings of this Sort, especially where the same tends to the Propagation of Learning; and therefore craving to the Effect after-mentioned, as the said Petition bears. The Lords of Her Majesty's Privy Council having considered the above Petition given in to them by Thomas Watt Master of Arts, and the same being read in their Presence: The said Lords do hereby grant to the Petitioner, the sole Power and Privilege of printing the Book above-mentioned, and discharges all others within Scotland to re-print the same, or to import re-printed Copies, from any Place without the Kingdom of Great Britain, without the Petitioner or his Assignes Warrant, and that for the Space of nineteen Years, under the Penalty of twenty Pound Sterling, to be payed by the Contraveener to the Petitioner or his Assignes; besides Confiscation of the Books so re-printed and imported.

Extractum per me

ROBERT FORBES Cl. Sti. Conf.

The sole Privilege of Printing the above Book, is now by Right from the deceast Mr. Watt, in the Person of John Paton Bookseller in Edinburgh, and secured to him by Act of Parliament, Anno 8. Chap. 19.
